

Join the Education Justice Project

Each spring EJP accepts applications from individuals interested in working (unpaid) with our college-in-prison program at Danville Correctional Center, on our reentry and deportation guides, with our campus internship program, and with our policy & research team.

We are also accepting applications for for-credit instructors at the prison for the 2023-24 academic year. These are compensated positions. Instructors must have the same qualifications that would be required to teach their proposed course on campus.

Learn more about EJP, our mission and our values, and about our application process on our website and upcoming drop-in sessions. Please see below for details. You can also reach us via email or phone.

In addition, EJP currently has a few paid openings. Visit <https://educationjustice.net/staff-openings/> for more information! All applications are due by Wednesday, March 1, 2023.
